The Agent of marriage is always a baby. Without it, wedlock is a summer field that never blooms. A flower that never buds, a night without stars, a sermon without a benediction, a prayer without an Amen.

There never was a husband worthy of the name, who did not aspire to be the father and the grandfather of healthy, capable children to hand down his name and the fortune accumulated by the sweat of his brow, from generation to generation. There never was a wife fit to bear that noble title, who did not wish to wear womanhood's most glorious crown, the scepter of motherhood. Thousands of wedded couples, otherwise happy, fall short of wedlock's greatest happiness because they are childless. In the majority of cases, this is because the wife, through ignorance or neglect, suffers from weakness and disease of the organs distinctly feminine. For women who suffer in this way there is one great medicine that does not fail to accomplish its purpose. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the delicate organs concerned and makes them strong, healthy, vigorous, virile and elastic. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones the shattered nerves. It fits for widowhood and motherhood. It quickens and vitalizes the distinctly feminine organism. It banishes the maladies of the expectant months and makes baby's introduction to the world easy and almost painless. It insures the little new-comer's health and nourishment in plenty. It is the best supportive tonic for nursing mothers.

Mrs. Jennie Purks, of Marshall, Spokane Co. Wash., writes: "I am glad to tell of the good results of your great medicine, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was benefited by your medicine in confinement. It gives me strength. I have no tired feeling and my baby is the picture of health. I feel better than I have in ten years."

In cases of constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used as an adjunct to the "Favorite Prescription." They are extremely simple, perfectly natural and insure prompt and permanent relief.

DANGEROUS PIGS.

The Peccary is Wholly Fearless and Will Fight Man or Beast.

A writer in the St. Louis Republic says that the most vicious and fearless member of the brute creation is the peccary, or wild hog, of Mexico. This animal seems utterly devoid of fear and displays an intelligence in fighting man strangely at variance with its apparently complete lack of mental attributes.

Their ability to scent men is particularly marked. The only thing to do when they get after you is to run away from them; as fast as a horse can carry you, and then there is no certainty that they won't catch you. They are nearly as swift as a horse, and their endurance is as great as their viciousness.

A friend of mine encountered a drove of them in a wild part of Mexico a few years ago, and his escape was almost miraculous. He very foolishly shot and wounded a number of them. Then he took refuge in a tree.

The peccaries kept him in the tree all that day and through the night. They circled round the tree, grunting and squealing their delight at the prospect of a feast. He soon exhausted his ammunition and brought down a peccary at each fire, but this had no terrors for the beasts.

Toward morning they began to eat those he had killed, after which they formed in line and trotted off. If they had not had some of their own number to devour, they would have guarded that tree until my friend, through sheer exhaustion, dropped from his perch and allowed them to make a meal of him.

The wildcats and tigers that infest the Mexican wilds flee from the peccaries with instinctive fear, and even rattlesnakes keep out of their path.

A QUEER CALCULATION.

The Power That Would Be Required to Move the Earth.

Statisticians sometimes have queer ideas. One of them has amused himself by calculating how much energy, water and coal it would take to move the earth a foot, supposing that it was subjected throughout its mass to a force equivalent to terrestrial gravitation. This is a gratuitous supposition, for in spite of its enormous mass the earth weighs nothing.

Starting with the fact that the earth's mass is about 6,100 million-million-million tons, our statistician calculates that we should require 70,000,000,000 years for a 10,000 horsepower engine to move our globe a foot. The boiler that should feed this engine would vaporize a quantity of water that would cover the whole face of the globe with a layer 300 feet deep. The vaporization of this water would require 4,000 million-million tons of coal. This coal carried in cars holding ten tons each and having a total length of 30 feet, would require 400 million-million cars, which would reach 80,000,000 times around the earth. This train, moving at the rate of 40 miles an hour, would take more than 5,000,000 years to traverse its own length. It would require for storage a shed that would cover 1,000 times the area of Europe.

If we realize that this fantastically huge amount of energy is nothing at all compared with what the earth possesses in virtue of its rotation about its axis, its revolution about the sun, and its translation in space with the solar system, of which the earth is but an infinitesimal part and which itself is but an infinitesimal part of the universe, we may get some idea of the importance of man in the universe and estimate his incommensurable pride at its just value. —Nature.

The Elko Independent copies an article recently published in the JOURNAL in relation to the gubernatorial mud-dle, and adds:

"The Supreme Court in its decision in the case of Sweeney vs. Bjul, to which the JOURNAL refers, said that the voter in one precinct or township who voted for the officers of another precinct or township, rendered his ballot void. The reason given by the Court for its decision, is that in attempting to elect officers for whom he had no right to vote, the voter deliberately places upon his ballot a mark that destroys its secrecy, and could be used for the corruption and fraud that the law intended to prevent.

"The ballot being void, the vote for Governor could not be counted any more than one for Sheriff could be. Every candidate voted for by the voter would lose a vote on all such ballots cast. Under that decision, the Supreme Court, in case of a contest, would have to reject all ballots wherein the voter voted for township or precinct officers other than those in the township or precinct in which he lived. If these ballots are rejected, and Sadler cannot offset them, his slender plurality of 22 is wiped out, and McMillan will be the next Governor."

Unquestionably the Independent is correct in a legal sense, which ought to prevail with the entire ticket if it should concerning the county candidate who loses his office on account of errors, whether intentional or not, in placing candidates for Justice of the Peace and Constable of another township upon the tickets. This certainly is a mark which destroys secrecy and identifies purchased voters in case such means were adopted to insure "fidelity" of the purchased to the purchaser. The JOURNAL has reason to believe that in a former election, an election broker contracted to furnish a number of votes for a certain ticket. The means said to have been adopted for identification, were that a certain candidate for School Trustees of another party should be the only "scraper" on the ticket. When the ballots were canvassed the broker received his blood money for the number of votes so identified. Probably that township office business in Eureka county was not the result of such a purpose, but at all events a candidate for Assessor should not be the only victim of the illegal proceeding. If such ballots were cast out as illegal as far as he was concerned, there can be no reasonable pretext why that should not be considered equally invalid in the cases of all candidates whose names were on the rejected tickets.

While it seems hard that innocent persons should be made to suffer from the venality or ignorance of a few persons, and the intelligent and honest voters of a precinct be disfranchised, it is also hard that a single candidate should alone bear the burden of such venality or stupidity.

OUR BENEDECTION ON THE WHOLE OUTFIT.

In his message the President dwells with tiresome retrospection on the achievements of his administration. But while he congratulates a grateful country on the decisive victories by which he has inaugurated his imperial policy, dis-patches from Manila cloud his sunny dominion in the Philippines. One of our date, with his message and with more meaning in it, tells how the U. S. cruiser Raleigh, had just returned from a diplomatic visit to Botangas in Southern Luzon, where Aguinaldo, the prince of jingo marauders, has established his rival empire. After a long and differential parley with the Malay potentate at his "palace," the friendly visitors of the Raleigh were allowed to land and stroll about the royal capital under the watchful surveillance of an armed escort. And having done what they could to establish cordial relations and prevent the smuggling of arms, several cargoes of which had been landed there, the envoys extraordinary were escorted back to their cruiser and steamed away to Manila.

Thence they reported their "reception," and observations to the President at Washington. They told him that the insurgents were armed with Mauser rifles and well drilled, and they claimed to have 4,000 Spanish prisoners at work on the roads, but otherwise well treated. The "officials" who have been detailed to guard them to and from the "palace," were said to be watchful and courteous. Thus Dewey has been superseded by McKinley and Aguinaldo, the rival potentates of the Philippines. One preaches the gospel of humanity and expansion. The other murders non-resident priests, sets up a piratical empire and snubs his liberator.

"God bless the King, I mean the faith defender!"
God bless (no harm in blessing) the pretender.
Who that pretender is, and who is King—
God bless us all!—That's quite another thing.
—Placerville Democrat.

HOPE HE WILL BE ELECTED.

Judge Beatty, formerly of the Supreme Court of Nevada, is mentioned as a likely candidate for United States Senator from California. The JOURNAL hopes he will be elected, as some Republican is bound to fill the place. Judge Beatty came to Nevada early in '63, and it was in the then Territory that he first commenced the practice of law. He was, after Nevada's admission as a State, elected District Judge of Lander county and afterwards served in the same capacity in White Pine county, and subsequently was elected Justice of our Supreme Court. He has reason to feel kindly towards our Battle Born State, and if elected will doubtless manifest his gratitude to the people who gave him his start in life, which unquestionably led to his present exalted position of Chief Justice of the great State of California. The Lord knows that Nevada needs a friend in the Senate, even if he comes from another State, as it has had none in that Congressional branch for many, many years, although it is to be hoped that we will have one during the next six years who will represent the interest of something besides that of a "corporation constituency."

Milkmen Water.
Complaint has been made that owing to the scarcity of water this morning several families in town were compelled to get along on half their usual allowance of milk. The milkmen all explained that their cows are suffering from pneumonia.—Virginia Report.

The milkmen in Reno carry cans of water with their milk. They serve it separately to their customers, and allow the latter to mix it to suit themselves. That's the square business.

A Similar Case.
The Indian may be unsophisticated by the side of the white man, but Bishop Whipple, writing in The Temple Magazine, shows that he has a dry sense of humor.

His Indian flock was visited by a speculative Yankee who hungered after their good lands and tried to persuade them to exchange their reservation for a worthless tract of country elsewhere. A council of the tribe was called together, and the Yankee addressed the assembly.

"My friends, I have lived 55 years in this world," he said, "and the winds of 55 winters have blown over my head and silvered it over with gray. As a true man I advise you to accept this new treaty at once."

He sat down, and at the same moment an old chief sprang to his feet.

"Look at me!" he said. "The winds of 55 winters have blown over my head and silvered it gray, but they have not blown away my brains."

"That conference was ended," said the bishop laconically.

Weeds as Food.

What is even regarded as a vile weed can, with a little stretch of imagination, be turned into an ornamental plant or delicious vegetable. This is especially the case with the common burdock, Lappa major. Schoolboys all know it from gathering the burs and compressing them together by the curved points of the floral involucre. This is all they know about it. It is difficult to see anything more to be despised in the burdock leaf than in the leaf of the rhubarb. It appears that it is largely used in China for food, but it is stated that if the stalks be cut down before the flowers expand and then be boiled the taste is relished equally with asparagus. The leaves when young are boiled and eaten as we eat spinach. In Japan it is in universal use. Thousands of acres are devoted to its culture, but in this case the root is the object. It requires deep soil to get the roots to the best advantage.—Meehan's Monthly.

Heat and Fuel Savers.

How long are you going to "get along" with that old cookstove that burns more fuel than a furnace and heats the outdoors more than does the oven?

A very little money will buy one of our cookstoves—you'll save the price in fuel in one season. It will keep the heat where it ought to be, and cook your food as it ought to be cooked. Come in and examine them.

Although by actual count Lieutenant Hobson kissed 355 ladies at Denver the other day, he didn't proffer a smooch to a single (or married) fair one while in Reno yesterday. This, despite the abundant material of female loveliness assembled at the depot to meet him; an array of ravishing beauty which cannot be surpassed in any town of its size on the face of the earth—always excepting Carson City.

Charles L. Taylor, Superintendent of the Rose Valley Borax Works in Harney county, Oregon, arrived on the train from the East Thursday night. He came to spend the holidays with his mother, Mrs. E. Colwell of Reno. Mr. Taylor has been operating the borax works successfully for the last two years, and has been for the last year making monthly shipments of about 80,000 pounds. The works are 140 miles north of Winnemucca, which is the railroad point for the products of the mine, or depot.

ERROR CHEERFULLY CORRECTED.

A Man Named Carrick was the Informant Against Wolf, the Deserter.

In an item relative to the arrest of Wolf, alias Kline, the deserter, published in yesterday's JOURNAL there was an error, which it is a pleasure to us to rectify. In the item it was stated that Wolf's wife, suspecting that her husband's partner was the informer, vented her anger upon him in most denunciatory terms. This was a mistake, although the JOURNAL published it upon what it regarded as reliable authority. The fact is, as we are thoroughly satisfied, Mr. S. W. Stull, Wolf's partner, had nothing whatever to do with furnishing the information which led to the latter's arrest. The information was given by a man named Carrick, who when in Reno was a frequent of Stull and Wolf's barber shop. The arresting Sergeant named him as the informant to Wolf in the presence of Carrick, and the latter acknowledged it. It was Carrick whom Wolf's wife denounced and not Mr. Stull, who was in the shop at the time, and it was that fact which probably led our informant into the error that Mr. Stull was the object of the lady's rage.

Mr. Stull, although in straitened circumstances, was obliged to borrow the money, paid Wolf liberally for his share of the stock, etc., of the concern, and both the prisoner and his wife parted with him upon the most friendly terms. Mr. Stull acted very gentlemanly concerning the mistake, therefore it is with unusual pleasure that the correction is made, for although it was not asserted that he was the informant, the tenor of the item would lead to that inference.

Lieutenant Hobson in Reno.

Lieutenant Hobson of the Navy, and Merrimac fame, passed through Reno yesterday. The public schools turned out, en masse, and the depot platform was densely crowded with people to greet him. He made a fifteen minutes talk to the crowd, giving a short but very interesting and thrilling sketch of the battle of Santiago and of his and his co-patriots experience in the sinking of the Merrimac in the channel of Santiago harbor. He expressed himself as much pleased with the reception he was receiving on his way to this coast. Mr. Hobson is a very fine looking man both in looks and physical stature, and in connection with his heroic fame, it is no wonder that his lips and cheeks are blistered with kisses from the fairer sex.

A Sensational Rumor.

S. P. Reeves of the United States Surveyor General's office, who left here about three weeks ago, ostensibly to "visit the old folks at home," it now appears, if reports be true, had other motives for leaving Reno. If rumor be correct, he quietly slipped into Athens, Georgia, and committed an offence against society by appropriating one of that city's fairest daughters. However, as that is an offence of frequent occurrence in Nevada, especially during the past year, we will freely forgive him and hope that the young ladies of Reno will be equally generous. The JOURNAL joins with his many friends in congratulations and wishes him and his bride a happy voyage over the matrimonial sea.

The Weather.

The great storm which has been pouring down in torrents throughout California, failed to put in an appearance in this portion of Nevada. A few dark clouds and a little wind and bluster was all that old Plutus could afford the arid regions of the "Sagebrush State." While our brethren, over the hills, are wading in mud and slush, we are blest with a bright shining sun in a cloudless sky, with ozone sufficient in the atmosphere to make life exhilarating and cause the early risers to exclaim: "Wow, doggone such cold weather!"

New Year's Calls.

The Marysville Appeal makes an eloquent bid for the return of the good old custom of New Year's calls. It claims its decadence was due to abuses in the large cities, which would not obtain in the smaller communities. The JOURNAL agrees with the Appeal that it is a fitting time for the ladies to receive their gentlemen friends and for them to exchange courtesies and good wishes. It was a custom that had friendship for its foundation, and should not be allowed to die out.

The Botkin Case.

Mrs. Botkin was on the witness stand yesterday in her own defense. She emphatically denied that she wrote the anonymous letters sent Mrs. Dunning, or that she mailed the candy which caused the death of Mrs. Dunning and her sister, Mrs. Deane.

She also denied that she purchased the handkerchief sent Mrs. Dunning's little daughter, or that she purchased any candy from Haas, from whose establishment the candy came.

Our Volunteer Army.

Our co-tem. last evening gives its readers the news from Washington that the Cabinet has decided to muster out fifty millions of the volunteers. What is to be done with the other twenty-five millions is not stated, but we presume they will be sent to the Philippines to awe Aguinaldo into submission. There is no wonder that the Spaniards quit when they heard of our volunteer army, and the order to enlist a hundred million men!

Harry McDuffy, the cutter at Sunderland's tailor establishment, has gone to Gilroy, Cal., to spend his holidays with the old folks at home.

W. O. Young, son of Judge W. H. Young of Reno, and a recent arrival from the Klondike, arrived in Reno last evening with his sister, Mrs. M. F. Jones, to spend the holidays among their old friends.

Harry Davis and his assistants are kept as busy as bees waiting on Christmas purchasers. Mr. Davis has one of the finest selected stocks of holiday goods that could be secured, in fact, he has just what you want.

A Republican yesterday asked the JOURNAL man whether the paper approved of the President's expansion policy. When asked what the President's policy was, the Republican said he didn't know—neither does the JOURNAL.

W. A. Keddle, the University student who carried off all the bicycle race honors at the last State Fair, left for his home in Quincy yesterday morning. He intended to wheel the eighty miles of rugged mountain road between Reno and Quincy in a day.

Judge W. H. Young, who is making an extended visit to his old home and friends in Ohio, sends his Christmas and New Year greetings to all inquiring friends in Washoe county. He is having a splendid time, and cannot say when he will return to Reno.

The Ogden Standard says that the Mormon Church is in need of money. Who ever knew a church that wasn't? It requires coin to run a church as well as a printing office, and there are a whole lot of folks who sponge their gospel as they do their newspaper reading.

Don't forget the Twentieth Century Vaudeville entertainments next Monday and Tuesday evenings. The company has been playing to crowded houses in California and the press notices it has received indicate that every member is superlative in his or her line. Prices 25, 50 and 75 cents.

Home Forum.

Under the head of "New To-day" appears the ad. of the Home Forum. It is a fraternal organization, a lodge of which is being instituted in Reno through the efforts of the general organizer, A. B. Keaton. It admits both ladies and gentlemen and from the success that Mr. Keaton has met with during the short time that he has been here, he feels confident that he will succeed in instituting a lodge equal in strength to any now in Reno. It pays accident, disability and mortality losses in full. With rates as low as the Forum offers, every man of family can afford to take out a policy and should provide against accident or death.

Home Again.

P. L. Flannigan, State Senator-elect, with his mother and sister, arrived home from the east yesterday. He looks none the worse for his journey. He reports that he has been in New York, Philadelphia, Washington and other cities and through a number of the Eastern States, and until he struck Nevada on his return trip, he had not seen the sun during his five weeks absence.

The weather through these States has been unusually cold, stormy, cloudy and foggy. He is glad to get back to his "sagebrush" home.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dunn's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display, of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalatypes small autotypes and lovely porcelains. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it? tf

Beats the Klondike.

Mr. A. C. Thomas, of Marysville, Tex., has found a more valuable discovery than has yet been made in the Klondike. For years he suffered untold agony from consumption accompanied by hemorrhages; and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and cold, he declares that gold is of little value in comparison with this marvelous cure; would have it, even if it cost a hundred dollars a bottle. Asthma, Bronchitis and all throat and lung affection are positively cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodskinson's Drug store. Regular size 50cts. and $1.00. Guaranteed to cure or money refunded.

They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to the stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by S. J. Hodskinson's Druggist.

Good sport.

Deer and antelope seem much more plentiful this season than usual. Hunters are meeting with considerable success and are supplying Reno, Carson and Virginia City with an unusual quantity of venison. These animals frequently come down into the valleys in time of hard storms or heavy snows, but what is bringing them out of the mountains, at this time, seems a mystery.

New Business Place.

Dan O'Conner's new building opposite the JOURNAL office has three of its store rooms already occupied, and the other two will be as soon as finished. Second street is looming up and Virginia street will have to look out for her laurels. The great requirements now is a little more and better gas and electric light.

District Court.

The case of the State vs. McMurtrie, for assault with intent to kill, was on trial in the District Court yesterday. The case went to the jury about 8 P. M. No verdict had been rendered at nine o'clock last night. This is the second trial of the case. In the first trial a couple of weeks ago, the jury disagreed.
